03. “I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to the Career Development Cell (CDC) at REVA University. The journey began with the placement training sessions organized by the university prior to the placement season. These sessions were invaluable, covering a diverse range of topics such as resume building, LinkedIn profile optimization, and mock interviews. By the end of my fifth semester, I had secured offers from three companies—Groww Investment Technologies, MyCaptain, and Omega Healthcare. I chose to join Groww as an intern, with an initial three-month internship that later extended to seven months due to the contributions I made. At the end of this period, Groww offered me a full-time executive position, along with a 25% salary increase. My journey would not have been possible without the belief and support of my mentors. The CDC has been instrumental in opening doors for me, helping me grow in the corporate world, and empowering me to support my family with confidence and responsibility. Thank you for setting me on this path to success and self-reliance.
