Director, School of Performing Arts and Indic Studies, REVA University, Bengaluru

Dr. Vidya Kumari S is the Director, School of Performing Arts and Indic Studies, REVA University. An extremely accomplished and erudite individual, she has done extensive research on the Kinetics and Kinesthetics of Indian Classical Dance with Special Reference to the Decei Tradition. She also comes with a strong background in Journalism and Material sciences. She is trained in Bharatanatyam by stalwarts such as Guru Narmada, guru Ullal Mohankumar and guru Smt Sundari Santhanam for more than two decades. Dr Vidya's multidisciplinary background has given her an edge as a Performing Arts academician as she is able to approach her study of the various sculptures, iconometric aspects and other elements with a scientific acumen and journalistic viewpoint as well. This is truly evident in her teaching and scholarship. She is the recipient of the Research fellowship from the Karnataka Sangeeta Nritya Academy, Government of Karnataka to carry out research work in the field of dance. She has also worked on the translation and commentary of the 'Nritya Vinoda' chapter of Manasollasa, a 12th century text. She has many publications and research papers to her credit. She has adjudicated many PhD and DLitt theses of scholars at different universities. She is also a board member and sits on several established panels. She has received several awards and accolades.
