1.1.3 – Establishment of REVA University

REVA University was established under the REVA University Act, 2012. The Act to establish REVA University was passed in Karnataka State Legislature, along with other Private State Universities. REVA University saw its birth on 27th February 2013 when the Government of Karnataka notified REVA University Act, 2012 in the Special Gazette of Karnataka State. The University commenced its programs from the academic year 2014-15.

1.1.4 - Vision

"REVA University aspires to become an innovative university by developing excellent human resources with leadership qualities, ethical and moral values, research culture and innovative skills through higher education of global standards".

1.1.5 - Mission

- To create excellent infrastructure facilities and state-of-the-art laboratories and incubation centers
- To provide student-centric learning environment through innovative pedagogy and education reforms
- To encourage research and entrepreneurship through collaborations and extension activities
- To promote industry-institute partnerships and share knowledge for innovation and development
- To organize society development programs for knowledge enhancement in thrust areas
- To enhance leadership qualities among the youth and enrich personality traits, promote patriotism and moral values.

1.1.6 – Objectives

- Creation, preservation and dissemination of knowledge and attainment of excellence in different disciplines
- Smooth transition from teacher-centric focus to learner-centric processes and activities
- Performing all the functions of interest to its major constituents like faculty, staff, students, and the society to reach a leadership position
- Developing a sense of ethics in the University and community, making it conscious of its obligations to society and the nation
- To offer high-quality education in a competitive manner

1.1.7 - Core Values & Purpose

Every University aspires to inspire students and scholars to achieve excellence; it is more or less the driving force of a successful institution. A University goes beyond conformity when its approach to inspiring students changes with the time. The norms, requisites and standards of educating the leaders of tomorrow are changing dynamically and it is imperative for a university to keep up with the times to ensure a radical difference in the landscape of education.

On that Principle, the Core Values and Purpose of REVA University is to:

- Attain excellence in different disciplines by creating, preserving and disseminating knowledge to all aspiring students.
- Draw inspiration from the University's ethos and develop within its members a sense of accountability towards their community, society and the nation at large.
- Accept the challenges globalization and changing times throw at us to offer high quality education and developmental services in a competitive manner.
- Provide every opportunity to the University's key constituents–its faculty, staff, students and the community–to excel in their domain of expertise and contribute to every task with sincerity.
- Transition from the teacher – centric focus to the learner - centric approach in imparting knowledge.

1.1.8 - REVA Logo

REVA logo depicts 'Srivatsa' or "the endless knot". The Srivatsa has rich significance in Indian Symbolism - in the religions of Hinduism, Buddhism and Jainism. Chief among its varied interpretations is that it represents the interplay of opposite forces in the world and a final merging of the dual, leading to harmony. It binds and connects all the stakeholders- the teacher and the learner at one level; and at another level connects the individual units of the institution to make it a harmonious whole.

The 'endless knot' signifies the continuous process of learning which has neither a beginning nor an end. In the Tibetan branch of Buddhism the endless knot signifies both wisdom and compassion which are essential in making the teaching-learning process meaningful and productive. Finally, the logo in its digitized version embodies the institution's blend of tradition and technology – a blend that signifies change and evolution at the individual and collective level and finally the societal level.

Human Capital Management (HCM)

Today's workplaces are fraught with complexity for Human Resource professionals. In addition to recruiting, retaining, and developing a talented workforce, HR professionals must adhere to legal, regulatory, and compliance requirements. Technology has the power to empower HR professionals and provide a streamlined path for managing and analyzing data, ultimately helping them execute on their objectives and improve HR processes across an entire organization.

Human Capital Management Software (HCM), sometimes called an HRIS (Human Resources Information System), or an HRMS (human resources management system), is a software application that allows HR and People Managers to strategically and operationally manage the entire lifecycle of their organization's employees, from hire to retire. Based on the Assessment management plan recommended by UGC, Rubric-based assessment-models are being explored to be implemented for formative assessments in a phased manner.

The objective is to make available a wide range of assessments towards a continuous evaluation of learners. The assessments will be structured considering the following:

- Mapping of Course Outcomes/ Program outcomes
- Mapping to revised Bloom's Taxonomy
- Designing/choosing of assessment type
- Implementing through assessment rubrics

The proposed assessments models will be implemented for the internal assessments. The wide range of assessments will include:

Collaborative Question banks, Open-Source examination, MCQs, (GATE –Model) internships, industry-related assessments, research-based assessments, simulation-based assessments, case studies, Open-ended experiments, poster-making, projects, activity-based assessments, skill-based assessments and so on.

NSS Unit of REVA University and 39KAR BN NCC Wing of REVA University

On 25th January 2024

Timings: 11:00 AM – 2:00 PM

Venue: Bandikodigenahalli

About the event

Voting is one of the most important rights we have as citizens of the country. It is our opportunity to have a say in who represents us in government, and it is a way to hold our elected officials accountable. One way to increase voter turnout is through voting awareness campaigns. These campaigns work to educate citizens on the importance of voting and the impact their vote can have. To Increase participation of people especially youth in voting process, different activities have been done in Voters Awareness Program.

Voting is important because it is a way for people to have a say in their government and to elect officials who represent their interests. It is also a way for people to hold their government accountable. Voting allows people to have a voice in the decisions that affect their lives.

Finally, voting is important because it sends a message to our elected officials that we care about what happens in our country and that we are paying attention to the issues that matter to us. When large numbers of people don't vote, it sends the message that we are complacent and that they can get away with anything.

Voter's day event began with watching the live streaming by our honourable Prime Minister Narendra Modi, where 200 students occupied their seats in Kalpana Chawla seminar hall and CNR Rao seminar hall. The event was led by Prof Madhu B P, NSS Coordinator, REVA University. Sir guided students with voting rights and importance of voter's day.

Later, 100 students were taken to Bandikodigenahalli village using REVA transportation including NSS Volunteers, NCC cadets, Scouts and guides cadets. REVA buses left the campus at 11:00 am. After reaching the village rally was done using placards and slogans to aware villagers about voting right and importance of voting. After rally students were served with refreshments.

32) Hagga Jaggata (Tug of War) Tug of war (also known as tug o' war, tug war, rope war, rope pulling, or tugging war) is a sport that pits two teams against each other in a test of strength: teams pull on opposite ends of a rope, with the goal being to bring the rope a certain distance in one direction against the force of the opposing team's pull.
33) Tower of Brahma "Tower of Bramha also known as Tower of Hanoi is a single player mathematical puzzle game that goes by two simple rules. The puzzle has 3 poles and six discs of various diameters stacked on one pole in a conical shape with larger discs resting on the bottom and the smaller discs on top in decending order. The objective of the game is to stack the discs on the third pole in exact same order. Even though the rules are simple solving the puzzle requires logical thinking, analytical and mathematical abilities.
34) Insuknawr (Donne Tallu) Insuknawr was the most popular among the Mizos. Zawlbuk, the center where young boys entering adulthood received informal education was the main place for this unique game. However, the formal education system which received widespread support throughout Mizoram in 1940s onwards brought about the decline of Zawlbuk and these indigenous games.
35) Haavu Yenee Aata (Snake & Ladder) "Snakes and ladders is a board game for two or more players regarded today as a worldwide classic.[1] The game originated in ancient India as Moksha Patam, and was brought to the United Kingdom in the 1890s. It is played on a game board with numbered, gridded squares. A number of ""ladders"" and ""snakes"" are pictured on the board, each connecting two specific board squares. The object of the game is to navigate one's game piece, according to die rolls, from the start (bottom square) to the finish (top square), helped by climbing ladders but hindered by falling down snakes.The game is a simple race based on sheer luck, and it is popular with young children.[2] The historic version had its roots in morality lessons, on which a player's progression up the board represented a life journey complicated by virtues (ladders) and vices (snakes). The game is also sold under other names such as the morality-themed Chutes and Ladders which was published by the Milton Bradley Company starting from 1943."

Why is a constitution important?

- A constitution is important because it ensures that those who make decisions on behalf of the public fairly represent public opinion.
- It also sets out the ways in which those who exercise power may be held accountable to the people they serve.
- And it sets out where government powers end by guaranteeing individuals' specific rights and freedoms. These rights help to assure the protection and promotion of human dignity, equality and liberty.

- Constitutions may provide for the division of powers between the central government and the regions.
- Constitutions should be agreed rather than imposed so as to provide an acceptable framework for the settling of different political views. They help provide for a stable society by ensuring that,
- Although everybody may not agree with the government all the time, the people accept the legitimacy of the system of choosing governments.

Outcome of awareness program:

Pre-Placement Process

The pre-placement process at REVA University begins in the pre-final year, strategically aligning students' career aspirations through comprehensive interest mapping conducted by Training and Placement Vertical Heads. This ensures a targeted approach to career preparation and placement.
Following the mapping process, rigorous training is initiated to equip students for Day 0 recruitment slots, primarily focused on prestigious product-based companies. Subsequently, Day 1 recruitment is scheduled for eligible students, offering extensive placement opportunities.

For engineering students, the recruitment process is further classified into product-based and service-based companies, ensuring precise career alignment. Meanwhile, management students undergo an exclusive pre-placement process tailored to their specializations, including Marketing, Finance, Human Resources, and Operations, enhancing their industry readiness.

This structured and strategic approach maximizes placement success, ensuring students secure roles that align with their skills, interests, and professional goals.

Placement Process

As part of the pre-placement season, formal invitations are sent to both existing and prospective corporate partners, accompanied by the University brochure. This brochure highlights REVA's academic excellence, diverse programs, and structured internship opportunities across various schools.

The Day 1 slot company is identified and given priority in the invitation process. Upon acceptance, the company provides an official confirmation email specifying the probable placement drive date, along with key details such as the job description, required skill set, compensation package, and eligibility criteria.

Subsequently, eligible students are shortlisted based on the company's specified requirements. They are then informed about the recruitment timeline, job role, salary structure, prerequisites, and required documentation. Interested students must register to participate in the drive.

To ensure a seamless recruitment process, the campus is prepared with essential logistics, including:

- Hospitality arrangements for visiting company representatives.
- Digital welcome displays and e-banners strategically placed across the campus.
- IT and infrastructure setup, including system configuration based on the number of candidates appearing for online assessments.

Following the completion of the placement drive, an official report, including the list of shortlisted students and final outcomes, is shared with university management. Once the Day 1 slot is finalized, subsequent responding companies are scheduled for their respective recruitment dates.

This structured and professional approach ensures an efficient, transparent, and high-impact placement process, strengthening corporate partnerships and maximizing student career opportunities.

Training

Training plays a pivotal role in ensuring successful placements, bridging the gap between academics and industry expectations. To facilitate a seamless transition, structured and industry-aligned training is integrated into the academic curriculum from the early stage of student life cycle onward.

Students undergo Aptitude and Technical Skills training as part of their regular schedule, enhancing their analytical, problem-solving, and domain-specific competencies. Regular diagnostic assessments are conducted to evaluate skill levels and track progress.

As students approach their final year, they participate in an intensive one-month Placement Boot Camp, designed to equip them with advanced problem-solving techniques and essential soft skills highly valued by industries. Special focus is placed on coding proficiency, logical reasoning, and verbal ability, ensuring students develop the technical and cognitive skills required to excel in competitive recruitment processes.

This structured training framework empowers students with the confidence, expertise, and adaptability needed to thrive in dynamic professional environments. This training is school specific and ranges from 60 hours to 200 hours.
